

A Kind Reminder

As we come upon a beautiful weekend, I ask that on Sunday 9/11 2022 we all pause to reflect on the horrific act that took place upon our country. Most importantly thinking about all those innocent souls we lost. Perhaps it was a family member, friend or an acquaintance whose lives were cut short for reasons we will never truly understand. There are also those who are left with the physical and mental scars from being at any of the locations or those family members who are left with only the memories of their loved ones.

It is truly important to honor all of those we lost and all those involved in the search and rescue of the survivors. We honor our first responders, especially the firemen and police for their quick and heroic efforts, the doctors, nurses and clergy for their never ending support during the most difficult days and of course, our military men and women who went into battle in the aftermath of this senseless attack.

We will never forget!!!

Take some extra time to enjoy your family and share some extra hugs. Share your KINDNESS

Thank you,
