By September 30, 2022, New Jersey public school districts are required to adopt and teach a Health and Physical Education curriculum aligned to the New Jersey's 2020 Health and Physical Education Standards \(NJSL\). Each local public school district determines the curriculum, as well as the instructional resources used to meet the standards based on the local curriculum development process.

The Citizens Advisory Committee met on the following dates to discuss the 2020 Health and Physical Education Standards (NJSL):

September 6, 2022

September 20, 2022
